

Callaway Cup Mule Derby

Rules and Regulations

What is the Mule Derby?

Wheeled mules will compete for The Callaway Cup on the incline of Court Street between 4th and 5th Streets. Each mule will be attached to a cable stretched from the top to the bottom of the hill and move by gravity from the release point and stopped by a hay bale at the end.

Judging:

Entries will be judged on appearance and speed. Participants will compete in heats based on the number of entries. The Callaway Cup will be awarded to the entry whose time is fastest in the winning heat.

Entry Rules:

- Each mule must have 4 wheels
- Entry MUST look like a mule, with credit given for innovation and style
- Mules must weight no more than 50 pounds (Mules will be weighed by approximate prior to start)
- Each mule MUST be 36", including wheels, in order to be attached to the cable
- Each mule MUST have two connectors with a minimum of 1" diameter eyelet attached at a height of 3' (plus or minus ½"). These connectors will attach the entry to the cable to guide it on its course.
- Each mule cannot have a wheelbase larger than 47" and not more than 42" in total width or it will not fit on the starting ramp
- Each mule MUST not exceed an overall length of 60" to qualify to race
- Gravity only NO assisted propelltion

Entries must be brought to the race area at the corner of 5th and Court by 5:00 p.m., on Friday, June 24th for measurement and weigh-in. Once checked in, the mule must stay in the staging area. The first heat will begin promptly at 5:30 p.m. Any entry not checked in and present at 5:30 p.m. will be disqualified.

At the conclusion of the Fulton Street Fair Mule Derby, a separate bracket will be conducted for those mules competing in the "Mules for SERVE" race.
